

KKE's Nathan Burt Become Licensed Architect

Minneapolis -- KKE Architects' designer Nathan Burt passed all nine divisions of the Architect Registration Examination. The exam assesses candidates for their knowledge, skills and abilities to provide various services required in the practice of architecture.

Burt earned two degrees from the University of Minnesota: a Bachelor of Arts in architecture and a Master of Architecture. As a student, he was recognized with KKE's Ron Krank Vision Award. Drawing from six years of professional experience, Burt currently is working on designs for the Blaisdell YMCA in Minneapolis and Shoshone Bannock Casino in Fort Hall, Idaho. His additional client work includes the North Metro Harness Track in Columbus Township, Minn.; St. Francis High School addition in St. Francis, Minn.; and Wabasha County Justice Center in Wabasha, Minn.
